THE CHANGING LANDSCAPE OF REAL ESTATE

The internet has provided the buying public unprecedented access to visual information which allows an efficient preview and selection of homes. Although photography is now commonly used, we believe a much more comprehensive method is available. This includes a view of the neighborhood, a floorplan layout with instant visual selection and an advanced furniture placement program.

For this purpose, we have chosen vis-home shown here under Virtual Tour which would be available on MLS and many other websites.
